

Index

Notes on contributors	5
Introduction	7
Fabio Corbisiero
Part one -Theories, Methods, Results	15
Chapter 1 -Rainbow Italy. Inclusive and Exclusive Cities	17
Fabio Corbisiero
1.1 Introduction	17
1.2 LGBT population: A quasi-community	19
1.3 The right to the city: Aggregation, segregation and gentrification	23
1.4 Theorizing the rainbow city	33
References	37
Chapter 2 -Rainbow Italian City Index	41
Gabriella Grassia, Anna Lisa Amodeo, Flavia Menna, Rosanna Cataldo, Simona Picariello, Cristiano Scandurra
2.1 Social research and homosexuality: Questions of method	41
2.2 Indexes and indicators in the social sciences: Methodological background	44
2.3 The synthesis of elementary indicators	46
2.4 Examples of social indexes	47
2.4.1 The Human Development Index	47
2.4.2 Il Sole 24 ore	49
2.4.3 Fair and sustainable well-being	50
2.5 Indexes and indicators of gender. The principal experiences in Italy and Europe	51
2.5.1 The Index of Gender Sensitivity (ISG)	51
2.5.2 The Rainbow Europe Index	53
2.6 The stages in the determination of the Italian Rainbow City Index	53
2.6.1 An integrated methodology for the weighting of the indicators. The importance of stages 5 and 6 in the research	58
2.6.2 Methods and instruments of the survey: On-line survey addressed at LGBT Italian community	59
2.6.3 Results of the two surveys	63
2.7 Towards an Italian Rainbow City Index	65
References	70

Chapter 3 -LGBT Italy. A Rainbow-oriented “Boot-shaped” Peninsula	73
Fabio Corbisiero, Amalia Caputo, Antonella Avolio, Fabrizio Canfora, Carmine Urciuoli
3.1 Towards a new (homo)citizenship?	73
3.2 The Rainbow Italy	77
3.3 LGBT organizations: Italians do it better ...	81
3.4 Mapping and data geo-referencing	88
3.5 A geo-critical analysis	97
References	99
Part two - Legislation and Policies	103
Chapter 4 -The Juridical Situation of Homosexuals.	105
The Italian National Stance and a Comparative Viewpoint
Salvatore Prisco, Fulvia Abbondante, Marina Monaco
4.1 Introduction	105
4.2 Same-sex marriages in Western democracies	107
4.2.1 The North American context: The United States and Canada	107
4.2.2 The two-speed Europe: Registered partnerships and same-sex marriage	110
4.2.3 The Italian exception	114
4.2.4 Towards a conclusion of sorts	115
4.3 Italy, the law and non-traditional stable relationships.	116
An overview of the problems and possible solutions
4.3.1 General premise: The strategy of the Italian parliament’s “repressive silence” on this issue and the necessary contribution of the courts. Some recent examples
4.3.2 The LGBT world and the local authorities in Italy.	120
a) Regional intervention
4.3.3 (to follow) b) The room for manoeuvre available to municipal authorities	123
4.3.4 (to follow) c) The law regarding couples living together. Some examples from legislation and case law acknowledging the importance of the phenomenon	124
4.3.5 Cohabitation agreements in private law	127
References	132
Chapter 5 -Rainbow Cities: Mayors’ Rules and Strategies	137
Anna Maria Zaccaria, Salvatore Monaco, Carmine Urciuoli

5.1 Introduction	137
5.2 Mayors and cities: A turning point at the end of 1990s	139
5.3 Mayors and LGBT inclusion: Programs and policies in the 21st century	144
5.4 Gender issues, electoral campaign and policy actions	146
5.5 Conclusion	152
References	154
Afterword	155
Fabio Corbisiero
Appendix	177