

The illustration depicts a scene from a children's book. On the left, a red barn wall features a small window with a bird perched on the sill. Three other birds are shown in flight against the red wall. In the foreground, a wooden cart with a large wheel is partially visible, along with some green foliage. On the right, a doorway leads into a dimly lit interior. A donkey, wearing a red and white striped shirt and a red and white striped hat, is walking away from the viewer towards the doorway. The floor is made of cobblestones, and a small yellow light hangs from the ceiling inside the doorway.

Il sole sta tramontando alla fattoria.
L'agnellino Fiocco ha sonno
ma non riesce a trovare la sua mamma.
“Mamma, dove sei? Oh, chi mi rimbotcherà le coperte, stasera?” si lamenta.

A whimsical illustration of a rustic room. On the left, a woman with a goat's head and large horns is partially visible, wearing a purple dress and a green and yellow striped sash. In the center, a woman with a cat's face, wearing a red hat and a striped dress, is laughing and holding a red ribbon. To the right, a rabbit is sitting on a green chair, surrounded by a large pile of blue and white fabric. The room has wooden walls, a hanging basket of pinecones, a window with a bird, and a yellow lamp. The floor is covered with straw and has a small red car and a yellow car on it.

“Lo farò io!” gli dice la signora Gatta.
“Io lo so di che cosa hai bisogno:
di tanti baci!!”

E subito la gatta inizia a leccarlo
su e giù per il muso con la sua linguetta ruvida.

“No, così non va affatto bene!
Oh, chi mi rimbotcherà le coperte, stasera?”
si lamenta Fiocco.